GARCELON, OF MAINE

His Son Tells What He Knows About His Father.

Mr. Charles A. Garcelon, a son of Gov. Garcelon, of Maine, lives in St. Louis and has been interviewed by the Post-Dispatch of that city. In the course of the conversation he said that the Associated Press had certainly misrepresented one of his father's "While I am not a politician," continued Mr. Garcelon, "I, of course, take a deep interest in the stirring events that have lately taken place in Maine, and with which my tather has been so prominently connected. I know he believes he is right in every position he has taken. He is slow to make up his mind, but when he does come to a conclusion he stands by it to the ast. And he is a man whose motives were never called in question."

"He was once a Rpeublican, I be

"Yes, he was a Republican for many party in 1856, and was a delgeate to the Philadelphia Convention that nom insted Freemont for President. When the war came on he was one of the first men in the State to offer his services to the Government. He is a physician, and was appointed Sur-geon-General of the State troops. He vas at Washington when the first Bull Run Battle took place, and was on the field of Antietam. He exerted bimself so greatly that he was taken sick and returned home. After recovering he again went to the front. He did not like Gen. Grant, and he 1 00 left the Republican party in 186 because he did not agree with the re⁸ construction policy of the Administration. He has been both in the Senate and the Lower House of the Maine Legislature, and has always taken a deep interest in public affairs. But most of his life has been devoted to the pursuit of his profession. He graduated at Bowdoin College in 1836, and three years after graduated in medicine at the Ohio Medical College. He has been married twice, his last wife being a sister of ex-Senator Frye, of Maine, who lives in Lewiston, where my father has lived for many years." "How old is the Governor?" "He is about 68 years old. Some of the papers have said he was seventy, but he is not that old." "What is his personal appearance?" "He is rather slender; weighs about 150 pounds, and has a clean-shaved

"How do the people of Lewiston feel towards him in the present troub-

"They have always felt friendly to him, and whenever he has run for office he has carried the city by a large majority, even when it was opposed to him in politics."

What a Child's Kiss Could Do

In prison at New Bedford, Mass. there now is a man whom we shall call Jum, and who is a prisoner on a life Leaves is noxy, iie (Freights) 7:30 a. m. seatence. Up to last spring he was regarded as a desperate, dangerous man, ready for rebellion at any hour. He planned a general outbreak, and was "given away" by one of his conspirators. He plotted a general mutiny or rebellion, and was again betrayed. He then kept his own counsel, and while never refused to obey orders, he obeyed them like a man who only needed backing to make him refuse to. One day in June a party of stanton. One to the institution. One Chesco, Cotton Yarns Corn. and two of the ladies had small children. The guide took one of the children on his arm, and the other began climbing the stairs. Jim was working near by, sulky and morose as ever, when the guide said to him: "Jim, won't you help this little gir!

> The convict besitated, a scowl on his face, and the little girl held her hands out to him, and said:

"If you will, I guess I'll kiss you." His scowl banished in an instant, and he lifted the child as tenderly as a father. Half way up the stairs she kissed him. At the head of the stairs she said :

"Now you'd got to kiss me, too." He blashed like a woman, looked into her innocent face, and then kissed her cheek, and before he reached the foot of the stairs again the man had tears in his eyes. Ever since that day he has been a changed man, and no one in this place gives less trouble. May be in his far-away Western home he has a little Katie of his own, No one knows, for he never reveals his inner life; but the change so quickly wrought by a child proves that he has a heart, and gives hope that he may forsake his evil ways.

Fixing Color in Cattle.

Richardson, in his work on agriculture, states that Colcombet, an intelligent French farmer, set to work to build up a herd of white Shorthorns, beginning by purchasing the entire Eaglish Herd Book, and every vol-ume of the French. Then, with the patience of a Benedictine Monk, he traced back from generation to gen eration the accidents of color in each family. With the knowledge thus laboriously acquired he was able to select his stock with such certainty that most perfect success rewarded Knozville Iron Company his toil. He has reached upward of forty calves, each perfectly white, without a single hair of red or roan appearing in any of them to upset his calculations and betray his hopes. In all cases they do not possese uniform excellence of form, but now that he has color he will next give attention to quality. An awkward fellow planted his foot square upon a lady's train the other day. "Oh, you great train-wrecker!" REATLY AND PROMPELY EXECUTED said the lady, angrily. "Beg your pardon, street aweeper!" was the arch reply. ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Are the most effective and congenial purgative ever discovered. They are mild, but effeetual in their operation, moving and without pair Although gentle tic medicine that can be employed : cleansing the stomach and bowels, and even the blood. In small doses of one pill a day they stimulate the digestive organs and promote vigorous health.

Ayen's Pills have been known for more thas a quarter of a century, and have obtained a world-wide reputation for their virtues. They correct diseased action in the several assimilative organs of the body, and are so composed that obstruc-tions within their range can rarely with-stand or evade them. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every-body, but also formidable and dangerons diseases that have builled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, the safest and best physic for children. By their aperient action they gripe much less than the common purgatives, and never give pain when the bowels are not inflamed. They reach the vital fountains of the blood, and strengthen the system by freeing it from the elements of weakness.

Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calonel nor any deleterious drug, these Pills may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar-coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take; while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.
